UDDEHOLMS AB AND ROHS

ROHS Directive 2011/65/EU

Dear customer,

The RoHS Directive 2011/65/EU and its amending Directive 2015/863/EU is an EU directive that prohibits or restricts the use of certain heavy metals, flame retardants and phthalates in electrical and electronic products on the market.

Uddeholms products are not intended to be used in electrical or electronic products. Therefore the RoHS directive is not applicable for Uddeholm steel products.

Trace analysis of our steel however show that all ROHS substances found in the steel are below limits.

Sincerely

Maria Norberg
